WHEREAS a very evil disposed PERSON has lately, in the most public Manner, made such a violent Attack about my Waist, as has given a great Shock to my Virgin Modesty, hitherto unimpeached: And as my loving People are under terrible Apprehensions of the Consequences which may arise from such Familiarities; I do declare, upon the Word of an honest Woman of Quality, that no Levity in my Behaviour, no Disregard to the Decorum of my Sex, ever gave the wicked Wretch any Opening or Encouragement for such an Attempt; and that I am determined to guard the Passage of my Heart, against him and his Abettors, while I live. The Man must be possessed, or at least led on by the Instigation of the Devil. However, as other Inconveniences may arise, besides those attending my Person, I have consulted my grave Lawyers knowing in the Laws of the Land, and my beloved Merchants, who know their Interests as well as my own: They have declared, that an Attempt of altering Words is of a most flagitious Nature, and big with impending Ruin, as it may be carried on to Things of infinite Consequence: That CHARLES*TON* is so nearly allied to CHARLES'TONE, or TUNE, that they are afraid I may be made an Instrument of, for the playing a Jig to which they will not dance: That the slightest Alteration in the Word FEES, may carry along with it a Reflection on all Officers, for receiving their lawful Perquisites: That the abovementioned evil-disposed Person may take it into his Head to alter MARSHAL of the Admiralty into MARCH ALL in the Admiralty, which will be highly disgusting to all sober Tradesmen: That even the Temple of LIBERTY may not escape Contamination from his reforming Hands, by altering it so, as to carry along with it something of a scandalous Tendency; although I believe He will be extremely cautious how he meddles with that sacred Place, as he must expect very different Treatment, from what he has met with from a poor weak Woman, who, through a Softness of Nature, does not choose even to exercise the Prerogative of her Sex, and give Him such a Scolding-Bout as would make him for the future keep his proper Distance. I am further told, that one Letter is of infinite Consequence in all Proceedings in Law: And that as little Irregularity as possible may creep in there, I do request, that ALL my loving People may have a proper Regard to EVERY Letter in a Word, and especially in MY Name, and that, if the above evil-disposed PERSON, does not return to his Duty, He must expect to have a Writ of W clapped on His Back. However, I will be humane enough to believe, that the indecent Manner in which I have been treated, does not arise from Disrespect to me; but, because that unfortunate Letter, begins the Name of an unfortunate Gentleman, who is highly offensive to the Five Senses of His Countrymen, on which Account, I should [illegible] surprized to see him [illegible] change the first Letter of his own Name, into OU.

QUEBEC, June 25.

Extract of a Letter, dated Michilimackinac, 24th February, 1768.

"CAPTAIN Spiesmacher, now commandant, received orders, the 6th December last, to confine Major Rogers, for high treason. The attention he had some time before paid to gain the confidence and esteem of the soldiers, and their blind attachment to him, seemed to pave the way to his treacherous designs, and gave every discerning person a great deal of concern. Altho' confined and strictly guarded, knowing his situation desperate, he still entertained some hopes of executing the designs he had formed; and a Frenchman, whom he had trusted for that purpose, enrolling he would be an accomplice, informed Captain Spiesmacher, about the 31st of January last, that Rogers told him, he intended to employ some Indians to take him, Lieutenant Christie, Ensign Johnston, and myself prisoners, and that after we were thrown to the mercy of the Savages, the non commissioned officers would deliver up the keys of the garison: That then having plenty of cannon, powder and ball, he would head the soldiers and Indians, and do his endeavours to take Detroit, and after that the Illinois, and with the plunder, would go off to New Orleans, to join Capt. Hopkins, and enter the French service, and would soon after return and fall upon New England and Carolina, which he looked upon to be two of the richest provinces on the continent: Adding, that it was his intentions to have put this scheme in execution the last spring; but for the want of money, and other things, he could not do it conveniently.

"One Fullerton, formerly his servant, or orderly man, was his accomplice: When he was sent for, and told that their designs were discovered, he burst into tears, begged his life, and confessed every thing.

"The informer was directed to visit Rogers, to assure him of his sincerity and friendship; but as both their lives depended on their success, to insist on a reward for so great an undertaking; upon which, after some difficulty, Rogers gave him his note of hand, to pay him one hundred pounds sterling for five years successively, to take him to Captain Hopkins, supposed to be at New-Orleans. Things being now proved beyond a doubt, the Major was immediately secured by an additional guard and heavy irons, and as soon as the vessel arrives will be sent down the country to take his trial.

"These are only the bare facts, which I have collected from the affidavits, from which you may make your own reflections on the train of evils in which this affair would have involved the public and many unhappy individuals, had it not been discovered."

BOSTON, July 10.

A LETTER to a FRIEND in LONDON.

SIR, Boston, July 8, 1768.

BY a message from the Governor of this province, to the House of Representatives, accompanied with an extract from the Earl of Hillsborough's Letter, it appears that the resolution of the former house, which gave birth to their circular letter to the other Colonies, have been represented to his Majesty, in the odious light of a party and factious measure; and the last house have been required to rescind and disavow it. They have maturely considered the requisition, and voted against a compliance with it, by a majority of 92 to 17. Could any thing of this nature appear strange on this side the water, one would wonder that a measure so innocent in itself,—so prudent—so salutary for his Majesty's American subjects,—so respectful to the mother country, and so dutiful and loyal to the King,—transacted in the view of the world, and finally laid before the Governor himself, without the least notice from him to the house or the public, that he had any unfavourable sentiments of it, could be thus misrepresented: But it has been the unhappy fate of this province, perhaps of all America, to be defamed and abused without intermission, by those who ought to afford to his Majesty the best and truest intelligence, and to fall under his displeasure, at times when they have flattered themselves they were in the path of their duty, and hoped for the Royal protection and favour. Such are the times, and such the country we live in! There are men, enemies to the King and to his people, from whom both have a sacred right to expect better things, who have been inaffantly endeavouring to strike out sparks of jealousy and discord, which may one day prove fatal to an empire!—Behold, what a great matter a little fire kindleth! And unfortunately for us, these malignant whisperers seem to have the ear and attention of the nation, while she is not aware, that there are men in America, some perhaps, whose rank and station give her a just right of confidence, who seek their own greatness, tho' at the expence of her utter ruin.—These men are not satisfied with defaming characters—They must proscribe a Province! a Continent! And in imitation of that, bellis patriæ in hanaui generis, they seem ardently to thirst for a power to cut off the whole people at one stroke! These are not the suggestions of party and faction! They are the sentiments of the public! They were lately drawn into a dutiful and humble petition to the throne; wherein, among other articles of impeachment of a governor of a province, it is alledged, "that he has practised the sending over depositions to the ministry, against gentlemen of character, without giving the accused the least notice of his purposes and proceedings." And, "That they have reason to apprehend, that he had endeavoured to persuade his Majesty's ministers to believe, that an intention was formed, and a plan settled, in this and the rest of the colonies, treasonably to withdraw themselves from all connection with, and dependence upon Great-Britain; and from their natural allegiance to his Majesty's sacred person and government." This petition was read, and unfeatured, and gratefully accepted; and very probably would have been carried by a very large majority, if the Governor had not immediately prorogued, and afterwards dissolved the assembly.—There are men, a real faction, who seem to aim at hurrying the people into despair and distraction; but when this same people have good sense enough to pursue cool, dispassionate, but firm, and manly, rational and constitutional measures—Measures which the Faction itself dare not but approve, even—Measures which Governor Bernard has been heard to say, he would have heartily joined in if carried; these [illegible] have the perfidy and audacity to represent them to his Majesty's ministers as the designs of a desperate, enraging Faction, tending to create unwarrantable combinations, and to excite an unjustifiable opposition to the constitutional authority of the parliament! Good God! Shall we be for ever thus abused without Redress! Shall we be incessantly defamed as Rebels and Traitors! Do we deserve to have ships of war before us, as they now actually are, in hostile appearance? Or can they be designed to put weak women and children into terror? Shall we be perpetually threatened with troops and dragooning, for humbly laying before our royal Sovereign, the distress brought upon us, by the machinations of his and our enemies; imploring his gracious protection, and calling upon our fellow subjects and fellow sufferers, to join with us in humble supplications! Is this rebellion against a British King! Will the Nation much longer be deceived! What must be the event! May Heaven avert the ruin of the British empire! America, if properly cherished now, will live to support that Empire! America may one day however, bid defiance to the proudest of her enemies, and rise and shine imperial in the western world: This good land, not long since the habitation of savage beasts, and men more savage, may yet be the happy retreat of independance and freedom; abundantly sufficient to make some chosen heir of the Brunswick line, the most glorious Potentate the world has yet seen! Possibly you now think me enthusiastic:—I am calm and sedate: Let Britain live really Great, till in the course of time she must share the common fate of empires! Till that event, it will be her own and her colonies interest to be united: Thus I know must be your sentiments as well as mine: It is then our duty, as far as lies in our power, to cultivate and establish the important union. I am,

Sir, your hearty Friend, and humble servant,

Boston, July 11. The laborious endeavours of pensioners and suckers, since the project of laying duties in America for the express purpose of raising a revenue, was adopted, has been to hide the true state of things, and persuade administration with a belief that such measures were not disagreeable to the body and better sort of the people.—That the opposition made thereto, is the only opposition of a little factious expiring party, which cannot stand before the exertions of power; this accounts for the pains taken by a certain Governor, and others, to prevent our petitions and remonstrances from being presented, as also for the invitation of MEN OF WAR, TROOPS, &c. the carrying off vessels in a hostile manner, the firing at others, and even boats, to douse sails, colours, &c. the searching of vessels, stopping others and taking out the cargo on the main of war's deck, impressing and imprisoning his Majesty's subjects, and threatening to blow the brains out of such as attempted to put their heads above the hatches, intimations and threats of firing broadsides into the town, and a most extraordinary letter to the Governor, handed the Council before the late disturbances, in which a Captain is said to express his hopes, that he may not be provoked to make use of the power in his hands, to treat the inhabitants worse than he would chase to ufe barbarians;—Left the extraordinary behaviour of the Captain's is now forgot or forgiven by the people, as they have had it reported to them, that he is entirely under the directions of the Board of Customs, who applied for his being sent here.—It is now to be hoped that the surprising unanimity of this town, the province and other colonies, with their several Assemblies, will serve to convince the whole nation, how much they have been imposed upon by the accounts of interested and designing men, who have projected and recommended measures, which are not only disgustful and distressing, but if adhered to, and pursued, may in the end prove fatal to British as well as American liberty.

His Excellency Governor Bernard's proclamation, dated the first instant, for dissolving the Great and General Court of this province is in substance as follows, viz.

"In obedience to his Majesty's commands signified to us by his secretary of State, I dissolve the Great and "General Court or Assembly; and the said Great and "General Court or Assembly, is accordingly dissolved, and "the members therefore are hereby discharged from all "further attendance."

Governor Lyndon of Rhode-Island, has issued a proclamation, offering a reward of fifteen pounds lawful money, for bringing to justice the person guilty of a robbery, in breaking open (last month) his Majesty's ware-house in Newport, and taking from thence a quantity of molasses, which had been seized by the officers of the customs, for breach of the acts of trade; which molasses had been legally condemned in the court of vice-admiralty there.—The officers of the customs have also offered a reward of fifty dollars, for discovering the authors of the above robbery.

Boston, July 25. The Hon. Thomas Cushing, Esq; Speaker of the late House of Representatives of this province, has received letters from several of the members who were necessarily absent when a late important matter was agitated, expressing their deep concern in not having had an opportunity to join with their respectable brethren in firmly adhering to the resolutions which they were commanded to rescind; but declaring that they perfectly agreed in sentiments with the ninety-two, and should have thought themselves highly honoured in bearing a public testimony against the rescission.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.

Extract of a Letter from Dominica, dated June 25.

"In the course of the present month we have been favoured with a visit of our Chief Governor, General Melvill; and what rendered his company more agreeable, he forwarded and put the finishing hand to the bill for holding courts in this island; which had been delayed many months by the council: Also, during his Excellency's stay arrived here our new Lieutenant Governor, Col. Young, by whom we flatter ourselves we have a gentleman, so mod to reduce that violence of party, which has so long perplexed this place. Lately died here Major St. George; also Colonel Parry, who was lately arrived from England. Provisions, as well British as North American, are extremely plenty, and the French actually bring flour from Guadaloupe to sell! And it's not to be wondered at; that Philadelphia soap will not sell in the West Indies, when the French introduce good Castile soap for 70 s. per Cwt.

Two small vessels were lately confiscated here, the one from Antigua for importing loaf sugar, the other for importing gin from St. Eustatia.——There are now 52 sail of vessels in our road, near 20 of which are taking in sugars, and are from 300 to 800 tons. Into said sugars are lower 15 per Cwt this year than last, owing to the great crop in Guadaloupe; and the quantity of cotton at market is immense."

Boston, August 1. We can collect no intelligence from the public prints reflecting American affairs, but by letters by the last vessels from London, we learn, that the ministry is at present in a very unsettled state, so that there is no determining how public affairs will be conducted, or by whom:——That Lord Chatham is yet our friend and support:—That our friends consider the late act imposing duties upon paper, &c. as a second Stamp-Act, and as another attempt to gain the point of taxation over the Colonies:——That those in power are unwilling to see the right of Parliament to tax America relinquished:—That wise, cool, firm measures, steadily pursued, will obtain us redress; and that the safety of these colonies, and of the whole kingdom, depended upon such a conclusion:—That resolution and perseverance in measures of industry, frugality and economy, and determining not to import any goods from Great-Britain, would undoubtedly and inevitably procure for us all the relief we need:—Distress among the merchants and manufacturers would be the certain consequence of such a conduct; people in general would have their eyes opened, they would soon feel the fatal effects of the late acts of parliament; and feeling must bring conviction, and daily create new friends with its increase.

Boston, August 8. We hear that the week before last, was finished, by order and for the use of the gentlemen belonging to the Infurance office kept by Nathaniel Barber, at the North-End, an elegant silver BOWL, weighing 45 ounces, and holding 45 gills. On one side is engraved within a handsome border, To the memory of the glorious NINETY-TWO members of the flamourable House of REPRESENTATIVES of the Massachusetts-Bay, who, undaunted by the insolent menaces of villains in power, and out of a strict regard to conscience, and the LIBERTIES of their constituents, on the 30th of June, 1768, voted not to RESCIND. Over which is the cap of liberty in an oaken crown. On the other side, in a circle adorned with flowers, &c. N°. 45, WILKES AND LIBERTY, under which is General Warrants torn to pieces. On the top of the cap of liberty, and out of each side, is a standard, on one is MAGNA CHARTA, the other BILL OF RIGHTS. On Monday evening last, the gentlemen belonging to the office made a genteel entertainment, and invited a number of gentlemen of distinction in the town, when 45 loyal toasts were drank, and the whole concluded with a new song, the chorus of which is, In freedom we're born, and in freedom we'll live, &c.

Tuesday night last the town was very agreeably serenaded by a band of vocal and instrumental music, in which performance, the capital piece was the celebrated new liberty song, so justly admired thro' all North-America. Chorus, In freedom we're born, and in freedom we'll live, &c.

ACTA ERUDITORUM. No. I.

Or the History of the WISEACRES.

ONE of the first acts of the Commissioners after their arrival, was the establishment of divers holy-days, for the observance of all officers of the customs in North-America. There is St Bridget and St. Fidget, and St. Bernard and St. Becket, St. Budget and St. Commencement; the day of the nativity of the American Board, with leave vouchsafed to their underlings, if they think fit, to keep all days of fasting and thanksgiving appointed by the Governor and Council. Are these men to be informed that the Governor of a province, be he who he may, and what he may, as the King's Lieutenant and Representative here, is their Master? I have no objection to celebrating the days of the creation and annihilation of the Board of North-American Commissioners, as holy days. But then I contend, that the former should, through all ages, be kept as a day of solemn fasting, humiliation and prayer, for the deliverance from the worst of temporal evils, and the latter as a high jubilee and thanksgiving for the greatest temporal mercies received. F. A.

The SONG alluded to above.

To the Tune of HEARTS OF OAK, &c.

COME, join hand in hand, brave Americans all,
And rouse your bold hearts at fair liberty's call,
No tyrannous acts shall suppress your just claim,
Or Rain with dishonour America's name.
In freedom we're born, and in freedom we'll live,
Our purses are ready,
Steady friends, steady,
Not as slaves, but as freemen our money we'll give.

Our worthy forefathers—Let's give them a cheer,
To climates unknown did courageously steer;
Though oceans to deserts for freedom they came,
And dying bequeath'd us their freedom and name.
In freedom we're born, &c.

Their generous bosoms all dangers despis'd,
So highly, so wisely, their birthright they priz'd;
We'll keep what they gave, we will plously keep,
Nor frustrate their toils on the land and the deep.
In freedom we're born, &c.

The tree their own hands had to liberty rear'd,
They liv'd to behold growing strong and rever'd;
With transport then cry'd, "now our wishes we gain,
For our children shall gather the fruits of our pain."
In freedom we're born, &c.

How sweet are the labours that freemen endure,
That they shall enjoy all the profit, secure—
No more such sweet labours Americans know,
If Britons shall reap what Americans sow—
In freedom we're born, &c.

Swarms of placemen and pensioners soon will appear,
Like locusts deforming the charms of the year;
Suns vainly will rise, showers vainly descend,
If we are to drudge for what others shall spend.
In freedom we're born, &c.

Then join hand in hand brave Americans all,
By uniting we stand, by dividing we fall;
In so righteous a cause let us hope to succeed,
For Heaven approves of each generous deed—
In freedom we're born, &c.

All ages shall speak with amaze and applause,
Of the courage we'll show in support of our laws;
To die we can bear—but to serve we disdain—
For Shame is to Freemen more dreadful than pain.—
In freedom we're born, &c.

Then this bumper I crown for my Sovereign's health,
And this for Britannia's glory and wealth;
That wealth and that glory immortal may be,
If she is but just——and if we are but free.——
In freedom we're born, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, August 11.

The Instructions to the Representatives of this City and County of Philadelphia, having been generally signed by the Freemen of said City and County, were delivered on Saturday last to JOSEPH GALLOWAY and JAMES PEMBERTON, Esquires, to be by them communicated to their Brethren, and are as follows,

Philadelphia, July 30, 1768.

To the REPRESENTATIVES of the FREEMEN of the City and County of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN,

WE observe that duties for the sole and express purpose of raising a revenue, have been lately imposed by acts of parliament, upon several articles of commerce, imported into these colonies. This we consider as an infringement of our natural and constitutional rights: It is a taxation of us by persons who do not, and cannot represent us. Such a taxation therefore takes away our money without our consent; and if the parliament can do this legally, and of right, it must follow of undeniable consequence, that we have no property, and that all we possess belongs to others, whose sovereign pleasure must determine how long we shall be indulged in the use of those things, which our own labours and our own cares have acquired and saved.

A doctrine so destructive of property, liberty and happiness, we cannot but deem in the utmost degree unreasonable and unconstitutional, and being asserted by so august a body as the British Parliament, it strikes us with surprize, affliction and apprehension, all which are greatly encreased by the violence of other measures.

Not long since, we beheld a sister colony deprived of legislative power, for no other offence than for daring to exercise her judgment on a point confessedly within her own jurisdiction, and for refusing to put herself to a considerable expence in obedience to an act of Parliament. A treatment severe to the immediate objects of it; dangerous and alarming to others; but this we perceive is not to be the utmost extent of American servitude.

The House of Representatives in the province of Massachusetts-Bay, roused by the common danger, candidly and wisely communicated their sentiments and proceedings to the other Assemblies on this continent; it being necessary that all possible care should be taken that the Representatives of the several Assemblies upon so delicate a point should harmonize with each other.

This behaviour of that truly respectable House, so prudent with regard to themselves, so affectionate with regard to the other colonies, and so loyal with regard to our gracious Sovereign, is represented in ministerial language, as a Measure of most factious tendency, and a flagitious attempt to disturb the public peace.—Nor have these reproaches satisfied the resentment of the administration. The House of Representatives has been required to rescind the Resolution that gave birth to the Circular Letter, and because they have magnanimously refused to betray the Liberties of these Colonies, they have been dissolved in a most insulting manner.

Besides this the Assembly of Maryland has been prorogued by their Governor in obedience to a ministerial order, because they could not be prevailed upon to resent and treat with contempt the letter from the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Massachusetts-Bay.

These measures excite in our minds the strongest sense of public danger.—On the one hand, we hear claims set up destructive of our rights; on the other, threatnings uttered, if we offer to oppose those claims. But as no ministerial rhetorick can persuade us that a denial of the authority of Parliament, in cases pernicious to Liberty, is to subvert the principles of the constitution; or that to be deeply sensible of oppressions, humbly to complain of them, and peaceably (though jointly) to seek redress of them, is a factious and flagitious attempt to disturb the public peace; we therefore do in the most earnest manner, call upon you to exert yourselves at the next meeting of Assembly for procuring a cordial union in sentiments and measures with the other colonies, on which union alone the happiness of the whole undoubtedly depends.

We recommend it to you, to exert yourselves as soon as the House meets, that a petition to his Majesty, a memorial to the House of Lords, and a remonstrance to the House of Commons, be immediately drawn up and transmitted home. Too much dispatch cannot be used at this important crisis; as we are fully persuaded, that nothing is so likely to overwhelm the colonies with calamities, as an appearance of disunion among them. In those addresses we do desire you to express, with all possible force of language, our loyalty to his Majesty, our firm attachment to the British constitution, and our affection to the people of the parent country.

That we value and revere the connection between her and us above every thing but religion and liberty, that we know it is the band of peace and prosperity; that, influenced by these sentiments we ever have been, are, and always shall be, ready and willing, upon every just occasion, to demonstrate our loyalty and duty by every method in our power. But, with equal zeal and firmness, are immoveably resolved, to assert and maintain the inestimable rights and liberties given to us by God, and confirmed to us by the constitution.

Boston, August 15. It has been currently reported, that the Commissioners are soon to have a force sufficient to protect them (in the town of Boston) in the due execution of their office; but what kind of force, whether naval or military, is not yet known. Strange it is, indeed, if those few men have such an extensive and unlimited power as to order forces here, just to satisfy their humours and avaricious ends.—It is to be hoped that the extent of their power will soon be known, by the publication of their commissions, which we hear are now in the press.

To the Honourable THOMAS CUSHING, Esq; Speaker of the Honourable House of Representatives of the Province of Massachusetts-Bay.

Charles-Town, South-Carolina, July 30, 1768.

SIR,

YOUR letter, directed to the Speaker of the Honourable House of Representatives of the province of South-Carolina, dated the eleventh of February last, is just now come to my hands.

The Commons House of Assembly of this province, ever attentive to the rights and privileges of themselves, and their constituents in particular, and the liberties of America in general, before their last adjournment, ORDERED, the committee of correspondence, to write to the agent in Great-Britain, and instruct him to join with the agents of the other provinces in America, in obtaining a repeal of the several acts of Parliament, which have lately been passed, laying duties in America, and endeavour to prevent the clause for billeting soldiers in America, from being inserted in the mutiny act which shall be passed: And that they do further instruct the agent, to join the agents of the other provinces, in all matters where the general interest of North America is concerned.—In consequence of this order, I have the pleasure to acquaint you, that the committee of correspondence have, by letters of the 25th of April last, given ample instructions to Mr. Garth, the agent, on these important points.

The House adjourned on the 26th of April last, and have been since prorogued; and as the time of their existence by law, will expire on the 18th of September next, I think that they will not meet again; but that they will be speedily dissolved, and writs be immediately issued for the election of a new Assembly; for which reason, I am afraid, I shall not have an opportunity of laying your letter before present House; but this, I hope, will not be attended with any inconvenience, as the steps are already taken, which you have so fully and warmly recommended.

Persuaded, that notwithstanding the invidious light, in which his Majesty's faithful Colonies have been misrepresented to their mother country, the time will soon come, when they will have a fair and candid hearing, the consequence of which must be a relief from all their grievances. I am, with great respect, Sir, Your obliged and obedient Servant,

P. MANIGAULT.

Speaker of the Commons House of Assembly of the Province of South-Carolina.

Philadelphia, August 18. Friday last the Reverend John Witherspoon, D. D. with his family, proceeded from this city to Princetown.

Philadelphia, August 25. On Saturday last a man was taken up and committed to Gloucester goal, on suspicion of being concern'd in the robbery of the Treasury at Amboy.

CHARLES TOWN, SEPTEMBER 12.

THURSDAY last the General Assembly of this Province was diſſolved by Proclamation [See the firſt Page] And Writs for the general Election of new Repreſentatives, we hear, will be ſigned and iſſued next Thurſday; ſo that it is probable the Election-Days may be fixed for Tueſday and Wedneſday the 4th and 5th, and the Day for the Meeting of the next General Aſſembly for Monday the 25th, of next Month.

The People called Regulators have lately ſeverely chaſtiſed one Lum, who is come to Town; but we have not yet learnt the real Cauſe of this Severity to him.—A Letter from Pine Tree Hill (now called CAMDEN) dated the 5th Inſtant, contains the following Intelligence, viz. "The Regulators have fixed upon the 5th of next Month to have a Meeting here, to draw up their Grievances, in order to be laid before the new Aſſembly; 1500 or 2000 of them, from St. Mark's and St. David's Pariſhes, are to rendezvous, on the 20th, at Eutaw, and thence proceed to Charles-Town, to purſue the proper Meaſures for Redreſs. The Regulators from the Congaree, Broad and Saludy Rivers, are not to proceed to Town, unleſs ſent for by their Brethren; but 1500 of them are to hold themſelves in Readineſs, in caſe they ſhould be wanted. They do not intend the leaſt Injury to any Perſon in Town, deſiring only Proviſions and Quarters till their Complaints ſhall be heard.—The Confuſion in North Carolina is ſtill greater than in this Province, where the People of Orange County again threaten Colonel Fanning, and refuſe paying any Taxes till an Act granting an enormous Sum for building a Houſe for the Governor be repealed; ſo that Governor Tryon has been obliged to draught 2000 men from Mecklenburgh and Dobbs Counties to overawe them, who are to march from the Town of Mecklenburgh the 24th Inſtant. Two of their Leaders have been ſecured, but its apprehended they will be releaſed before they can be brought to Trial, as the People in general complain loudly of the above mentioned Act as a great Grievance, as well as of that laying a Duty on Paper, Glaſs, &c. which will ſoon drain from them the little Specie they have. Their Paper Currency being moſtly ſunk, and a Poll-Tax of Eleven Shillings Proclamation Money, does not fail to add to the Diſtreſſes of that Country."

From Mr. Wells's Gazette, under the Head

CHARLESTON, September 9.

"Laſt Week Sail'd over the Young Warriour of Eſtatoe Chief of the Lower Cherokee Towns, accompanied here with Alexander Cameron, Eſq; Commiſſary for that Nation, on a Viſit to the Superintendant, to be informed of the Reaſons for withdrawing the Garriſon from Fort Prince-George, and other Matters of Importance to the Indians, who, it ſeems, were not a little alarmed by that ſudden and unexpected Meaſure. He is returned to his own Country, much better ſatisfied than when he arrived."

"The Cherokee Indians have had no Account of Attakullakulla and thoſe with him, ſince they were at Pittſburgh, concluding the Treaty with the Delawares and Shawanoſe, and begin to be in Doubt about his Safety coming through ſo many hoſtile Tribes."

Laſt Thurſday, George Mills, Eſq; Inſpector General of the Cuſtoms in America, having finiſhed his Buſineſs here, and at George-Town, without the leaſt Interruption, ſet out for Beaufort; from whence, we hear, he is to proceed through Georgia, Eaſt and Weſt-Florida, the Bahama and Bermuda Iſlands; and his obtaining the fulleſt Information in all the Places under his Inſpection, is not to be doubted, from the Attention that has been paid him here, and his engaging Qualifications.

The Sloop Iſabella, Andrew Hampton Maſter, is arrived here from Penſacola, in which came Paſſenger Mr. Benjamin Ward, who informs us, That the Troops intended to be tranſported from Weſt-Florida to St. Auguſtine were collecting together, but that their Embarkation could hardly take Place before the Beginning of next Month: That the French and Spaniſh Governors continued at New-Orleans, and ſeemed to act in concert, the Spaniſh however conſidered as the Superior: That the War between the Chactahs and Chicaſahs is not now carried on with any Degree of Inveteracy, each Nation contenting itſelf with ſending out a few ſcalping Parties: That Mr. Clifton, Chief Juſtice, Mr. Wragg, Attorney-General, and Mr. Macpherſon, Judge of the Admiralty, arrived there from London, about 10 Weeks ago, in the Ship Britiſh-King, Capt. Waugh, who ſailed again for London the 12th Inſtant: And that two Brigantines from Ireland were arrived there.—Mr. Crooks of Georgia, is come Paſſenger in the ſaid Veſſel.

By Capt Diamond juſt arrived from St. Auguſtine, we are informed, that about 200 of the Spaniards and Italians introduced by Doct. Turnbull, and which he was ſettling at the Muſquito's, roſe on the 18th paſt, and ſeized the Schooner Balmer, Evan Stokes Maſter, of this Port, employed in carrying Proviſions to that Settlement, with an Intention to proceed in her to the Havanna; that they alſo attempted to make themſelves Maſters of the Schooner Eaſt-Florida-Packet, Benjamin Burton Maſter, which he prevented by ſcuttling her; and they intended likewiſe to have ſeized Capt. Duncan's Ship off the Muſquito Harbour; but that the Wind proving unfavourable for their getting out, gave an Opportunity for an Expreſs to reach St. Auguſtine on the 20th, ſo that on the laſt two Sloops full of Troops ſailed, and Capt. Rainsford with 50 more marched, and reached the Muſquito's early enough to prevent their getting away, upon whoſe Appearance they immediately quitted the Schooner, and betook themſelves to the Buſhes and other hiding Places.—It is apprehended, that Mr. Turnbull will have much Trouble with the Settlers he has introduced.——The Sloops ſent to the Relief of the Settlement at the Muſquito's, were, the Elizabeth, from Bermuda, and the Speedwell, from New-Providence, who had arrived ſome Days before, with the two Companies of the 9th Regiment from thoſe Iſlands.

Captain Forbes from St. Chriſtopher's informs us, that about four Weeks ago they had a hard Gale of Wind among the Windward Iſlands, in which it was ſaid fifteen or ſixteen Veſſels were loſt at Barbados, amongſt them, the Sloop Induſtry, Downing Wilkinſon, Maſter; the Sloop Baſhower, Boaz Bell, Maſter; and another Bermuda Sloop.

Of the Veſſels arrived here ſince our laſt, the following have put in, viz. the Nancy, Appleton, from Bear Inlet, with Naval Stores for a New-York Sloop at Port Beaufort, in North-Carolina, blown off. The Nanny Fortune, Vidall, from St. Auguſtine, bound for Gibraltar, in Diſtreſs, after having been 29 Days out: And the Elizabeth, Daly, from the Bay of Honduras, bound for New-York.
